Validation of inbound and outbound electronic data

Foresight Implementation Project Communication Update

September 22, 2006

AHCCCS has recently awarded a contract to Foresight Corporation (www.foresightcorp.com) to provide a software solution for validation of inbound and outbound electronic data interchange (EDI) transactions. The implementation of the Foresight products is underway and you will be receiving updates as the project progresses.

The solution will improve the integrity of the data interchange with all of our partners and will provide some new tools for both the agency and the program contractors. One of these is the Foresight Community Manager, which will provide a web-based self-service testing area for the health plans to use to test their transactions in real time. This will be available for both new and existing partners to test files against AHCCCS guidelines for existing transactions or new transactions or versions.

Another tool, EDISIM, through its companion guide authoring functionality, will help AHCCCS guarantee that the documentation provided to our partners is always the most current reflection of submission requirements.
